AUTHORS, TITLES AND SUBJECTS INDEX.

The numerals refer to the PAGES.

The Title-entries are limited to Anonymously-published Books the Authors of which are unknown, not commonly known or uncertain; and to Series of Books with a collective name. Quite unimportant anonymous books of which the titles sufficiently indicate their character are not indexed at all, as being more naturally sought under their Subjects. Pseudonyms are cross-referenced.

The SCHEME OF ABBREVIATIONS is as follows:—

Complete Ideal Specimen:—Smith, John Essays (two) 750 (763, 790); Studies 751 [Art of Writing 780, On Taste 170].

(1) The word within round brackets immediately following the title [(two)] indicates the NUMBER OF BOOKS under titles so abridged which occur on the page immediately following [750];
(2) The first numeral after the title [750] represents the FULLEST or most important ENTRY OF THAT BOOK;
(3) Numerals in round brackets [(763, 790)] represent INCIDENTAL ENTRIES of the entire book. They are occasionally worth turning up, as giving clues to the contents of the book;
(4) Titles and numerals within square brackets [Art of Writing 780] represent PARTS OF BOOKS ENTERED SEPARATELY. They follow immediately after the entire book of which they form part.

De Benedicta Incarnatione ..... ed. Rev. E. HARRIS 86
An early wk., giving an insight into the develop. of W's. ideas, written prob. 1363, when he had not yet divested himself of the scholastic habit of mind; but it conts. the germ of the revolt fr. mediæv. Rome and the prophecy of the Engl. Bible. Based on Oriel MS., collated w. Vienna codex. Preface (30 pp.), notes and index.

De Blasphemia ..... ed. M. H. DZIEWICKI 93

De Civili Dominio ..... ed. Dr. Reg. Lane POOLE 85
Conts. his view of property, his theory of govt. and of the rt. of rulers over the prop. of the Church. Very competently ed. by an industrious scholar, it forms the most valuable wk. we have on W's. social ideas, shedding a flood of light on his so-called communistic theories. Bas. on Vienna MS. (the only existing one).

De Compositione Hominis ; w. facs. of MS. ..... Dr. Rud. BEER 84
A small bk., one of W's. early wks. (pub. when he read his scholastic lects. at Oxon.), ranking as the first purely philos. writing in a Wiclifian sense, its aim bg. to harmonize the Aristotelian psychology w. Xtn. dogma. Based on 5 Vienna and Prague codices.

De Ecclesia ..... Prf. Joh. LOSERTH 85
States at length his doctr. of the Ch., both as to idea and as to realization. In 3 pts. (23 chaps.): the Triumphant (blessed in heaven), the Sleeping (souls in purgatory), the Militant (Xtns. in the world). Lengthy Intro. ; notes (crit. and histor.) by F. D. MATTHEW. Based on 3 Vienna and Prague MSS.

De Ente Prædicamentali & xiii. Quæstiones .... ed. Dr. R. BEER 91

De Eucharistia ..... ed. Prf. J. LOSERTH 92

De Officio Regis [=bk. viii. of his Summa Theologiae] ed. A. W. POLLARD+C. SAYLE 87
An intricate discussion, arguing in a scholastic way the socio-polit. problem of the royal prerogative in its mediæv. form. Based on Vienna and Prague MSS.

[Dialogus]. Speculum Militantis Ecclesiae vel Dialogus ed. A. W. POLLARD 85
Mainly on endowmt. of the Ch. ; conts. also W's. final opin. on Transubstantiation. Ed. fr. Ashburnham MS., coll. w. 3 Vienna codices.

Logica & Logicæ Continuatio .. ed. M. H. DZIEWICKI, anncd. for 1894

Philosophical Works ..... ed. M. H. DZIEWICKI anncd.

Polemical Works ..... ed. Dr. Rud. BUDDENSIEG 83
The first vol. of the Soc's. pubs., w. Intro. by Dr. B. on W's. Lat. wks. and their bearing on his schemes of reform, on the Polem. wks. and their general import, w. descr. of Vienna, Prague, Olmütz, and Ashburnh. MSS. Includes the Polem. Tracts agst. the Sects, and those agst. the Pope—all showing the keen-eyed and determined Yorkshireman in the heat of his struggle agst. the Pope and the four Mendicant Orders. 3 Indices.

Sermones, pt. i. [Super Evangelia Dominicalia] Prf. Joh. LOSERTH 86
A splendid ser. of serms., belonging to the latest period of his life, and contg. virulent attacks on the Mend. Friars, lordly prelates, Pope and Romish abuses. Intro. [tr. F. D. MATTHEW.] Bas. on Trin. Coll. Camb. MS. comp. w. Vienna codex.

Sermones, pt. ii. ..... ed. Prf. Joh. LOSERTH 87
Same period as part i., showing his polit. as well as eccles. and doctr. convictions. Based on Trin. Coll. Camb. and Vienna MSS.

It was the pub. of this wk. wh. led to Maurice's compulsory resignation of the chair of eccles. hist. at King's Coll., Lond., the doubtful orthodoxy of the author's views on the Atonement and Eternal Punishmt. being brought before the Council by Dr. JELF, the then head-master.

A handy edn. of the wks. of a man than whom few have done more to mould the relig. thought of the best minds or have thrown themselves more whole-heartedly into the best movements of their time.

4. PHILOSOPHY OF RELIGION.

THE RELIGIOUS SENSE: ITS SOURCES, GENESIS, NATURE, AND CONTENTS.

Generally —v. also A §§ 6–9: Nat. Theol., and A § 122: Doctr. of God.

d'ALVIELLA, Cte. Goblet Origin and Growth of the Conception of God [Hibbert Lectures 1891] 8° 10/6 Williams / $3 Scribner, N.Y. 92

Its design is to give continuity to the anthrop. and histor. accounts of the manifestations of religion, fr. a constructive pt. of view, and fr. this developmt. to deduce some forecast of the future of religion.

*CAIRD, Prf. Edw. The Evolution of Religion, 2 vols. [Gifford Lectures, 1890–92] p 8° 14*s. nt.* MacLehose, Glasg. / $4 nt. Macmillan, N.Y. 93

Gives an account of the evol. of relig., and also deals w. the main questions as to the nature and evidence of relig. wh. have been raised in modern times. In the First course of lects. the main stages in the developmt. of pre-Xtn. religs. are treated; the Second is devoted to the developmt. of the Jewish and Xtn. religs.. An exceedingly important and thoroughly interesting work, by the acknowledged chief of the neo-Hegelian school in Britain.

KELLOGG, Prf. S. H. [Canad. Presb.] The Genesis and Growth of Religion [Stone Lectures 1892] $1.50 (6/–) c 8° Macmillan 92

A general expos. of the various theories on the subject, and a special criticism of those of Herb. SPENCER [ut B. B. A § 4] and Max MÜLLER [ut infra].

KING, Jno. H. The Supernatural: its origin, nature and evolution, 2 vols. 15/– 8° Williams 92

In 2 sects.: Orig. and Nature of Supernal Concepts, and The Evol. of the Supernatural. Maintains that the tendency to believe in the supernal is organic in the human mind, and that the form of belief varies only acc. to the stage of developmt. of the individual.

LOTZE, Herm. Outlines of a Philosophy of Religion, ed. F. C. Conybeare [Philos. at Home ser.] c 8° 2/6 Sonnenschein / $1 Macmillan, N. Y. 92

A very suggestive and thoughtful little bk., conservative and strongly theistic. Conts. little that is not in his Microcosmos [ut B. B. C § 45], but forms a masterly compendium of his most characteristic speculations and conclusions. The tr. was commenced by the late Mrs. F. C. CONYBEARE, a dau. of Prf. Max MÜLLER, and completed and ed. by her husband.

,, ,, Anthropological Religion; Theosophy or Psycholog. Relig. [Giff. Lects., '91, '92] ea. 10/6 ($3) c 8° ,, 92; 93

The First wk. is introductory, contg. an exam. of the various definitions of natural religion and a statement of the objects it may hope to achieve. The Second shows how different nations had arrived at a belief in many gods of nature, and at last in one God above all gods. The Third shows how different nations arrived at a belief in soul. Having thus given a history of the discovery of an objective or cosmic Deity and of the discov. of the soul, the Fourth (and final) wk. conts. a hist. of the various attempts that have been made to define the relation betw. the infinite in nature and the infinite in man, or the union of the soul with God. The author's main stdpt. is that man in the foundation, and largely in the devel., of his relig. ideas has been under the guidance of reason or—what to the author is identical—of language, and that mythol. is a "disease of language." After pub. of first two bks. an attempt was made to silence Max MÜLLER as Gifford lecturer at Glasgow, but the charge of heresy (aimed not only at the lecturer, but also at the Senate of the Univ. and its Principal, Dr. J. CAIRD), was thrown out in the Glasgow Presbytery by 17 to 5 votes, and the appeal made by the defeated party to the General Assembly at Edinb. simply dismissed. When the late Lord GIFFORD bequeathed £80,000 for endowmt. of Nat. Theol. lectureships in the Univs. of Edinb., Glasg., Aberd., and St. Andrews, he directed the lecturers, who were to be elected "subject to no dogmatic tests whatever," to treat their subj. "as a strictly natural science, without refer. to any supposed special or so-called miraculous revelations."

SCHLEIERMACHER, Fried. On Religion: speeches to its cultured despisers, tr. Jno. Oman 7/6 c 8° Paul 93

A remarkable bk., wh. had a remarkable influence on German thought. Orig. addressed to the author's literary companions (the "cultured despisers") in the Wednesday Club, where he met men of all schools, incl. the two SCHLEGELS, TIECK and NOVALIS, at the instigation of the first of whom the bk. was written. Well tr., w. an informing Intro. on the inner life of the author and the contents of the bk.

Relig.*; Classifn. of Positive (pre-Xtn.) Religs.; The Absolute Relig.; w. an appendix on Xtn. Unity in America and the Historic Episcopate. Author is Prf. of Ethics and Apologetics at Seabury Divinity Schl., and the wk. is apologetic in purpose throughout, supplying however as good a view of the Hegelian system as can be had. "There is only one man living who understands me," said HEGEL on his deathbed, and then, after a solemn pause, he added, "and he does not."

Theolog. rather than philosophical ; w. spec. refer. to DRUMMOND'S Natural Law in the Spiritual World, ut B.B. A § 6 (where that impressive but signally defective wk. is too favourably characterized). Argues that the new ideas of the nature and order of things, incl. the doctr. of evolution, constitute a better basis for Theistic and Xtian. faith than the old. Author describes himself as a "natural realist on a basis of evolution, and a spiritual believer on a basis of natural realism." On the subj. of the final destiny of "the rejected," he is, in plain English, a universalist.

RENAN, Ernest [Rat.] The Future of Science: Ideas of 1848 [tr. (badly)] 8° 18/– Chapman / $2.50 Roberts, Boston 91

A sort of Apologia pro vita sua: a fascinating self-portraiture of a genuine truth-seeker, a perfect specimen of what the Gks. termed a Skeptic, i.e. a man who has a natural distrust of dogma or finality in speculative subjects of all kinds. "I have tasted in my childhood and early youth the purest joys of the believer, and I say from the bottom of my heart that these joys are nothing by comparison with what I have felt in the pure contemplation of the Beautiful and the passionate search after Truth. I desire for all my brethren who have remained orthodox a peace to be compared with that in which I live since my struggle is over, and since the appeased storm has left me in the midst of this great Pacific Ocean—a sea without wind or storm, upon which one has no star but Reason, no compass but one's own heart."

STEPHEN, Leslie [Agnos.] An Agnostic's Apology: and other essays 10/6 c 8° Smith & Elder 93

STIRLING, Dr. J. Hutchison [C.-S.] Philosophy and Theology [Gifford Lectures 1889 (the first)] 9/– p 8° Clark, Edin. 90

By the well-known founder of Hegelian studies in Engl. Discusses the proofs of God's existence, traces their successive appearance in the hist. of philos., and vindicates them agst. the objections of HUME, KANT and DARWIN (to the last of whom nearly a quarter of the vol. is devoted). Author says the Ch. of Scotl. is—like the Ch. of Engl.—divided into 3 parties, high, broad and low, and it is to the last mentioned that he belongs. A learned bk., but full of tortuosities of style and somewhat thin humour.

TAIT, Rev. Jas. Mind in Matter 6/– c 8° Griffin [84] 92

This essay, by the author of the term "Agnostic," wh. he invented as a name for his own opinions and those of the schl. to wh. he belongs (above all of Hume and to a gt. extent of Kant), throws much light on Agnosticism as a philos. method. "Agnosticism is not a creed, but a method, the essence of wh. lies in the rigorous applicn. of a single principle. . . . Positively the principle may be expressed: In matters of the intellect follow yr. reason as far as it will take you without regard to any other consideration. And negatively: In matters of the intellect do not pretend that conclusions are certain wh. are not demonstrated nor demonstrable" (p. 362).

13. MOHAMMEDANISM AND HISTORY OF ISLAMISM.

Treatises.

ALI, Syed Ameer The Life and Teachings of Mohammed: or the Spirit of Islâm 18/- 8° W. H. Allen 91

A clear and forcible expos. of Mohammedanism, intended primarily for circulation amongst Xtns. A curious sign of the times, representative of the growth of Islâm in the midst of Xtn. countries, and interesting as enabling us to contemplate Islâm from within and Xty. from without. Some of its statements ab. Xty. are, however, outrageous. The author is a judge of the High Ct. of Bengal, and here becomes the spokesman of our fifty million fellow subjects who hold his creed. His Mohammedanism is of a distinctly Rationalistic type, attributing the defects of modern Islamism to the fossilizing influence of the patristic theologians, disavowing slavery, polygamy, divorce, etc.

POOL, Jno. J. Studies in Mohammedanism: histor. and doctr.; w. chap. on Islâm in Engl. 6/- c 8° Constable 92

An interesting, tho' informal and discursive, survey of Mussulman faith, practice and history, consisting of 40 papers compiled fr. well-known and usually trustworthy sources, one of its purposes bg. to provide a prophylactic agst. perversion to Moham. A conspic. feature of the bk. is its acc. of the Moh. church founded in L'pl. by Mr. Quilliam (a L'pl. solicitor), with a following of 52 members, incl. 14 ladies: in wh., or indeed in the future of Islâm in Engl., the author evidently has no great faith.

,, ,, Bábí-ism—in Religious Systems of the World—ut A § 9.

The former is a facs. of the orig. anon. Persian text [=vol. i., not sold separ.], w. Engl. tr., intro. and learned notes [=vol. ii., sep. 10/6 nt.]. SEYED MAHAMMED ALI, commonly known as the Báb, was a young merchant of Shiraz, b. 1824. At age of 24 he began to declare his rank of Báb-hood, his doctrines at first differing but little fr. those of Islâm, but later he adopted a dreamy humanitarian liberalism, teaching the brotherhood of mankind, greater freedom for women, liberal provision for the poor, wickedness of wars, etc. He rapidly gained adherents, and persecution followed at the hands of the Mollahs (regular clergy). After suffering imprisonmt., he was put to death at Tabriz in 1850. Whilst in captivity, his followers rose in armed revolt, but were suppressed, and the head-quarters of the sect had to be removed fr. Persia to Bagdad. In 1867 a schism (the usual fate of a sect), occurred. Since the d. of the Báb, MIRZA YAHYA had been the acknowledged chief, but now BEHA claimed the leadership, a claim admitted by most. This work was composed by his order, and comprises a hist. of the relig., w. statemt. of its doctr. and principles. In conseq. of the dissensions wh. broke out the Govt. sent MIRZA to Cyprus and BEHA to Acre, in both of wh. places Mr. BROWNE had interviews with them. The religion itself seems to be an essentially transitory one. Vide also Mr. BROWNE'S article in Jl. R. Asiatic Soc., vol, xxi.

A system. and scholarly attempt to trace, as it were, a straight line down the ages from GOTAMA in Magadha to SUMANGALA, now Principal of the Pali Coll. in Colombo and High-Priest of Adam's Peak. Its scope is thus limited to Singhalese Buddhism. It considers that the oldest biog. of GOTAMA cannot claim in its pres. form any higher antiq. than 4th cent. A.D. (=9th fr. date of its subject), and that there is little historical evidence for the centuries before 260 B.C., assigning therefore an immense importance to the era of Asoka as that in wh. Buddhism and Buddh. liter. took the shape in wh. we now have them. The first attempt at a system. revision of the Hebr. Scripp. since the Massoretic text was fixed in 6 cent. Promise is made that it will embody the assured results reached by mod. scholarship, both as regards actual wording of docums. and assignmt. to definite periods. To comprize 20 Pts., of wh. Pt. xvii. : The Bk. of Job, ed. Prf. C. SIEGFRIED, of Jena, and v. : Leviticus, ed. Can. S. R. DRIVER, appear first (notes tr. Prf. R. E. BRÜNNOW). Various colours (blue, green, and red) for the various documents are used to indicate (1) parallel compositions, (2) polemical interpolations, (3) correcting interpolations—in Job conforming the speeches of JOB to the spirit of the orthodox doctr. of Retribution. The crit. notes are short and to the point, and the bibliogr. references exhaustive. Among the scholars taking pt. in the enterprize are :—

England.		America.	Germany.
Rev. C. J. BALL.	Can. S. R. DRIVER.	Prf. W. R. HARPER.	Prf. K. BUDDE.	Prf. C. SIEGFRIED.
Prf. T. K. ABBOTT.	Prf. H. E. RYLE.	Prf. WARD.	Prf. C. H. CORNILL.	Prf. A. JEREMIAS.

Harris, Dr. J. Rendel A Study of the Codex Bezæ [Texts and Studies] 8° 7/6 nt. Camb. Press / $2.60 nt. Macmillan, N.Y. 91
The Codex Bezæ is a MS. of the Gospels and Acts w. Gk. on one side and Lat. on the other. Critics of last cent. regarded the Lat. as the orig. text, and the Gk. as dependent on it. Recent critics take the opposite view (v. Intro. to SCRIVENER'S edn., ut 36.35, A § 17), but Dr. HARRIS reverts to the old opinion, and gives his reasons here.

RYLE, Prf. Herb. E. [C.-E.] Introduction to the History of the Canon of the Old Test. 6/- ($1.75) c 8° Macmillan 92
Traces historically the gradual growth and formation of the Hebr. Canon of Script., wh. passed through a very similar course of develmt. to that of the N.T. The liter. of O.T. is dated acc. to the conclusions of the critical school, and the bk. is throughout candid and liberal, but claims that the general recognition wh. the Hebr. Bible received fr. Christ and His apostles suffices to invest it w. divine authority.

The Gk. text, w. an elab. intro., crit. and exeg. notes, paraphrase and good commentary. A sound and scholarly wk., indispensable to a thorough study of the Epistle. Author believes the Ep. to be "the earliest of the bks. of N.T., writ. prob. in first decade of Xtn. era," wh. if correct, would be of inestimable advantage for the orthodox cause. He dismisses the theory that the Ep. is a tr. fr. an Aramaic original without hesitation, and is of opinion that the picture it presents of pre-Pauline Xty. is of spec. value in an age of relig. dissent like the present.

KENNARD, H. Martyn Philistines and Israelities 6/- 4° Chapman 93

Its main thesis is that fr. the time of Abraham 2 great races contended for the mastery of the East, the Hamitic Cushites and the Semitic Elamites, whose conflicts "have been adroitly narrowed by the priestly writers into petty engagmts. betw. Philistines and Israelites." "Beyond a doubt we have been hood-winked and bamboozled by priestcraft. Instead of Abraham, Moses and David bg. simple shepherds, and viceregents of the Almighty, they were great Cushite Emperors and worshippers of the Sun-God Masu, Ahen or Amen."

Designed to emphasize the dangers of mysticism the moment it begins to influence the common rules of right and wrong. Nearly half the vol. is given to a very interesting acc. of the Anabaptists of Munster; but the bitterness of the author's dislike to Protestantism renders it an unsound guide through the Reformation period.

LLOYD, Walt. [Unit.] The Galilean: a portrait of Jesus of Nazareth 2/6 c 8° Williams 92

Gives a portraiture of Christ, regarding him as a man, and asserting the distinction betw. the Galilean and the Jew. Not argumentative; purely descriptive on these assumptions.

STRAUSS, Dav. Friedr. [Rat.] Life of Jesus crit. examined, tr. "Geo. Eliot" [Mary Ann Evans (Cross)] 8° 15/- Sonnenschein / $4.50 Macmillan, N.Y. [46] 93

A cheap repr. of a tr. of a bk. wh. marked an epoch on its first appearance in 1835. It will always hold a place as a classic in the liter. of Christology, being as it is the link wh. connects the old schl. of rationalism, whose methods were always destructive, with the modern schl. of constructive criticism. Its theory is briefly known as the Mythical Theory. Prf. Otto PFLEIDERER [Prot.] adds an interesting Intro. to this edn.

Though a devout Roman Catholic (Order of St. Dominic), the author avoids controversial points; and the bk., wh. is a scholarly and instructive one, is of much value to readers of all communions.

FOUARD, Abbé Constant [R.-C.] The Christ the Son of God, tr. G. F. X. Griffith [R.-C.] 2 vols. 14/- ($4) c 8° Longman 90

From the standpoint of modern Catholic scholarship. The author is at the head of the younger generation of Catholic scholars in France, where the book at once received the heartiest recognition. Eschews criticism and controversy, being "an act of Faith," written in blind credulity and as such super criticam, as was Sigismund super grammaticam. Picturesque and imaginative, like RENAN—only "more so." Intro. by Card. MANNING.

Chronology, etc., of Christ's Life.

ADDIS, Rev. W. E. [Unit.; ex-R.-C.] Christianity and the Roman Empire [Manls. Early Xtn. Hist.] 3/6 c 8° Sund. Schl. Assoc. 93

A brief, intelligent and interesting acc. of the development rather than the hist. of the first 3 cents. of Xty. Adopts unreservedly the views of "the German School." A good (but not perfect) intro. to the subj., for pop. use; but the opinions of LIGHTFOOT (and, if the student read Germ., of NEUMANN) should also be studied.

*RAMSAY, Prf. W. M. The Church in the Roman Empire before A.D. 170; maps and ill. 12/- 8° Hodder [93] 93

An important wk., tracing the history of the relations wh. the Rom. Imper. Govt. maintained tow. the growing power of the Church, and describing the situation of Xtn. hist. within the general hist. of the Rom. Emp. before A.D. 180. Pt. i. (8 chaps.) is entitled St. Paul in Asia Minor (wh. the author's archæol. and topogr. knowledge brilliantly illuminates), Pt. ii. (the longer) is founded on lects. del. in 1892 (at Mansfield College, Oxon), and covers the period A.D. 64–170, treating more espec. of the whole question of the persecutions of the Church. The whole book is a model of strictly scientific application of archæol., histor., topogr. and numismatic evidence to the investigation of early Christian history.

Of a standard character; very full in bibliogr. references; free fr. theological bias. Ably tr. by Rev. Jno. MACPHERSON+Rev. Peter CHRISTIE+[Miss] S. TAYLOR. This vol. concludes the Foreign Theolog. Lib. pub. by T. & T. Clark, of Edin. Since its commencement in 1846, four vols. have been regularly pub. each year. The series as a whole has been most useful in its influence on the progress of theolog. science both in Gt. Brit. and in America.

SLATER, Rev. W. F. [Wesl.] The Faith and Life of the Early Church: an intro. to Church hist. 7/– c 8° Hodder 92

A thoroughly modern and fairly critical, though not quite adequate, intro. to the study of the Primitive Church. Its chief characteristic is its exposition and defence of the view that Catholic Xty. was the result not of an amalgamation or reconciliation of contending parties (as commonly held) but of the triumphs of Gentile Xty. It is to some extent a defence of Wesleyanism agst. Roman and Angl. pretensions. WEIZSÄCKER'S and PFLEIDERER'S theories incisively criticised.

*WEIZSÄCKER, Carl The Apostolic Age [tr.] [Theol. Transl. Lib.] 8° Williams 93

Thoroughly historical in spirit and critical in method, realizing the best results of modern criticism.

Hill, Rev. J. Hamlyn [tr.] The Earliest Life of Christ ever compiled fr. the four Gospels [=tr. of "Diatessaron"] 8° Clark, Edin. in prep.

Tr. fr. CIASCA'S Latin version, compared w. the Arabic ; w. tr. of EPHRAEM'S Commentary (fr. Dr. MOESINGER'S Latin edn.) and an Intro. on the MSS. and their history, an acc. of TATIAN himself and his commentators, and an estimate of the value of the wk. for criticism and exegesis of the Gospels. Appendices.

The Diatessaron was for cents. the regular Church Gospels in the Euphrates valley, and was prob. widely known elsewhere. It has only recently been recovered in (1) the Arab. tr., (2) an Armen. commentary on the 4 Gospels, from which the fragms. of the Diatessaron have been extracted. It is of great importance for the textual crit. of N.T., even tho' not yet found in its earliest form. It was constantly used by the Syrian fathers, tho' this use of course diminishes steadily fr. the 2 cent. onwards till first half of 5 cent., yet could not have passed out of use even by 9 cent., when the Arab. tr. fr. the Syriac was made. TATIAN was a disciple of JUSTIN MARTYR.

97. ROMAN CATHOLICISM (a): BIBLIOGRAPHY. SERIES. HISTORY.

MY attention having been called by correspondents from various parts of the world to the inadequacy of this and the following three sections [A §§ 97–100] in The Best Books, and having been specially asked by numerous persons to make these sections as complete as possible, I have here sought, by copiously supplementing the previous lists, to render the whole as fairly representative a bibliography of the current literature of Roman Catholicism as a very limited acquaintance with the subject renders possible. Such books as are also of considerable general or extra-Catholic interest have been taken into the Special Departments, as was the case in The Best Books. These will be found as follows (non-theological and non-ecclesiastical books by Roman Catholic writers occurring of course throughout the whole work passim):—

"It has ever been a hobby of mine, though, perhaps, it is a truism not a hobby, that the true life of a man is in his letters . . . not only for the interests of a biography, but for arriving at the inside of things, the publication of letters is the true method. Biographers varnish, they assign motives, they conjecture feelings, they interpret Lord Burleigh's nods; but contemporary letters are facts."—J. H. NEWMAN.

BOGATZKY, Golden Treasury for Children of God [tr.]: repr. of 1st ed., ed. Chas. P. Phinn 6/- c 8° Stock 91

A repr. of an interleaved copy of the 1st edn. (1775) of the tr., or paraphrase, wh. was sent by Jno. THORNTON (for whom it was priv. prin.) to Rev. Jno. BERRIDGE (Vicar of Everton), for his corrns. and prep. for the press. It has been further revised by Rev. W. BULL. When thus sent to BERRIDGE, only two-thirds of the prose and only 37 out of the 366 hymns were in any sense BOGATZKY'S, the rest hg. been borrowed fr. Engl. authors or written expressly for the wk. by THORNTON and his friends. The verse was mostly taken fr. Is. WATTS. The notes and corrns. of BERRIDGE, a staunch Puritan in both religion and language, are of consid. interest, and the edn. as a whole presents us w. an exact reprod. of the opinions of the chief of the Evangel. fathers in the C. of E., who were neither Wesleyans nor ultra-Calvinists. Intro. by Prc. H. C. G. MOULE.

to Council of Nicæa, A.D. 325.

CRUTTWELL, Rev. Chas. T. [C.-E.] Literary History of Early Christianity, 2 vols. 21/– 8° Griffin 93

Incl. the Fathers and chief heretical writers of the Ante-Nicene period. From a literary, rather than a strictly theol. pt. of view, indic. the leading intell. conceptions of the various writers, the degree of success attained by each, and their permanent value as contribs. to thought—following the same method as in his Hist. of Roman Liter. [ut 15.16. Posthumously ed. by Dr. A. M. FAIRBAIRN [Cong.]. The object of the bk. is to account for the difference betw. the Xty. of the Sermon on the Mount and that of the Nicene Creed, the former being "the promulgation of a new law of conduct" (in which metaphysics is entirely absent), the latter being a "statement partly of historical facts and partly of dogmatic inferences" (couched in metaphys. terms, in wh. ethics has no place): the change in the "centre of gravity fr. conduct to belief" being coincident w. the transference of Xty. fr. a Semitic to a Greek soil.

WESTCOTT, Bp. Brooke F. [Durh.; C.-E.] Essays in the Hist. of Relig. Thought in the West 6/– ($1.75) gl 8° Macmillan 91

9 essays on Plato's Myths, Æschylus, Eurip.,* Dionysius the Areopagite,* Origen [v. A § 55], Benj. Whichcote [a charming sketch],* Rel. of Xty. to Art [erudite and accurate], Browning's Teaching of Xty. as the Absolute Religion. The obj. of the whole is to demonstrate of W. civilization that in every realm of human activity (action, liter., art) the works wh. receive the most lasting homage of the soul are those wh. are most Christian, and that it is in each the Xtn. element wh. holds our reverence.

An excellent edn. of this hitherto missing wk. (ment. by Eusebius and Jerome). The edr. in 1889 discov. this Syr. vers. [?7 cent. in the libr. of Convent of St. Catherine, on Mt. Sinai]. Prf. J. A. ROBINSON adds an Appendix, identifying the Gk. text of Barlaam and Josaphat [the main portion here reprod.; also ed. in Migne's edn. of JOHN OF DAMASCUS' Opera, 3 v. 45*fr.* r 8° Paris] with the long-lost orig. of the Apology. The whole forms a most interesting and valuable contrib. to understanding of pre-eccles. Xty., scarcely less import. than the Didaché [v. A § 55]. The Apol. was presented to the Emp. HADRIAN, A.D. 125.

Patrick, Rev. Jno. The Apology of Origen in reply to Celsus: a chap. in the hist. of apologetics 7/6 c 8° Blackwood 92

A sound and thoughtful monograph on ORIGEN'S answer to the treatise (now lost) of CELSUS agst. Christianity, charging it w. being dangerous to the State. Gives the arguments on both sides, and forms a very convenient digest of the whole controversy. A good chap. shows the relations betw. Xty. and the Empire, and the vol. conts. a tr. of the greater pt. of CELSUS' True Word. Author disagrees w. KEIM'S opin. that the CELSUS of ORIGEN was CELSUS the Epicurean known to LUCIAN.

,, ,, Skeptics of the French Renaissance 8° 10/6 Sonnenschein / $3.50 Macmillan 93
Vol. i. deals w. General Causes (pp. 3–95), DANTE, PETRARCH, BOCCACCIO, PULCI, MACHIAVELLI, GUICCIARDINI, POMPONAZZI, BRUNO, VANINI [last 3, to whom more than half the vol. is devoted, of special value].
Vol. ii. deals w. MONTAIGNE, Peter RAMUS, CHARRON, SANCHEZ, LA MOTHE-LE-VAYER, PASCAL.
Together they form an excellent intro. to the hist. of Ital. and Fch. free-thought, from 13 to 17 cents., written in an attractive and scholarly manner, entirely at first-hand fr. the original sources. Its copious refers. to the liter. of the Renaissance are very useful and exact. Index to each vol.

Mystics.

Conts. the Three Letters to the Bp. of Bangor, as in vol. i. of Mr. MORETON'S reprt., broken up, w. a summary prefixed to ea. section, an intro. and some notes.
,, ,, Serious Call to a Devout and Holy Life [Lib. of Theol. Liter.] 1/- c 8° Griffith [1729] 88
A bk. that has "a strange and moving spiritual pedigree." It led JOHNSON to think in earnest; it strongly affected WHITEFIELD; from it Thos. SCOTT dated the beginning of his spiritual life, and NEWMAN in his Apologia speaks of SCOTT as the writer "to whom, humanly speaking, I almost owe my soul." Doubtless the recent revival of interest in LAW'S wrgs. is mainly due to the tendency of the pres. age tow. mysticism and "theosophy," as a reaction agst. purely scientif. thought and methods, aided by the manly piety, practical devotional character and excellent English of the wks. themselves.

A tr. of Der Inhalt der Lehre Jesu, an important contrib. to bibl. theology. The introd. to vol. i. summarizes the results of his heretical analysis of the text of the Gospels, and the rest of the wk. rigidly adheres to the scheme there outlined. The "results," briefly stated, are that there are 3 Apostolic "sources" or authorities underlying our present Gospels : (1) Mark's Gosp., (2) the Matthew discourses, ed. in 2 forms in 1st and 3rd Gospels, (3) the Johannine discourses, ed. in 4th Gosp. by a post-Apost. writer. [The reasons for this crit. anal., appearing in the orig. wk., are not tr. in the Engl. edn.] The author's acc. of the Teaching of Christ as a whole—of its "unity, consistency, moral depth and grandeur," ii. pp. 389–97)—is not materially affected by his critical results.

Author takes his stand on the broad and philos. foundation of compar. religion, Xty.—for the purposes of his argument—ranking side by side w. Islamism and Buddhism as one of the Universal Religions. The "permanent elements" are Dependence, Fellowship and Progress [not v. differ. fr. the Pauline triad of Faith, Hope and Charity], the permanence of wh. depends on the laws by wh. man's spirit. nature grows. Of these he mentions four, not professing to be exhaustive; the law (1) of environment, (2) of organism, (3) of sacrifice, (4) of indirectness.

131. CHRISTIAN EVIDENCES (c): SCIENTIFIC AND HISTORIC ACCURACY OF THE BIBLE.

Generally.

KINNS, Sam. [layman] Graven in the Rock; profusely ill. 12/6 8° Cassell [91] 91

A sample of a thoroughly bad bk., written w. a good intention: largely read and spoken about in drawing-rooms. Setting itself to prove the histor. and scient. accur. of the Bible fr. beginning to end, it brings together fr. all sorts of sources, mostly bad, argums. and confirmns. of the author's views (he has "amalgamated his own thoughts and discoveries w. those of eminent Eygptologists"). The 1st edn. was subscribed for in full on pubn. by Dukes, Earls, 15 Bishops (printed in capitals) and others (in small type). "The advent of each species has been a separate act of creation"; The Garden of Eden "extended for several miles, and was shut in by an impenetrable fence"; Adam and Eve employed themselves in "singing impromptu songs in the glades of that delightful garden"; at the time of the Deluge the population of the earth amounted to "at least two millions"; "all existing nations are descended from Noah"; there is "no doubt" that Daniel wrote Daniel; there is no real difficulty ab. "the longevity of the antediluvian" patriarchs, because the Rev. F. PAYNTER has an oak-tree in his garden not less than 800 yrs. old. In fact no difficulties are left for subsequent critics to solve.

Psalms.

*CHEYNE, Can. Thos. K. [B.-C.] The Psalter : its Origin and Religious Contents [Bampton Lects.] 8° 16/- Paul / $4 Whittaker, N.Y. 91

Marks a new epoch in English Psalter-criticism, tho' its results have been practically a settled matter for a long time in Dutch and German schools of Biblical criticism. Assigns the whole Psalter to the post-exilic period (w. the doubtful exception of Ps. xviii.), towards establishing wh. conclusion 5 out of the 8 lects. are devoted. A thoroughly scientific exegesis, moving in harmony w. the deepest religious spirit. Examines the whole Psalter, group by group, psalm by psalm, almost verse by verse, in a sound apologetic manner.

LEATHES, Prf. Stanley [C.-E.] The Law in the Prophets [Bible Student's Lib.] 3/6 8° Eyre & Spot. [91] 93

Taking the Prophets in order of Engl. Bible (Dan. incl.), goes thro' ea. bk. chap. by chap., noting the words and phrases wh. in his opin prove the writers to have been acquainted w. the Pentateuch as we now have it, the corresp. passages bg. prtd., side by side, w. occas. notes. Shows a thorough contempt of all mod. criticism; and its whole method is equally unscientific.

Isaiah.

KENNEDY, Prf. Jno. [Cong.] A Popular Argument for the Unity of Isaiah 2/6 c 8° Clark 91

A vigorous defence of the traditional view, w. exam. of opins. of CHEYNE, DRIVER, DELITZSCH, G. A. SMITH and others.

Daniel.

BEVAN, Rev. A. A. —in his Introduction to his Short Commentary on "Daniel," ut A § 30.

Gospels.

Collectively.

BADHAM, F. P. The Formation of the Gospels 5/- c 8° Paul [91] 92

Not very trustworthy, and its theories somewhat "faddy," being based largely on doublets and textual inconsistencies. The sec. ed. differs consid. fr. first—not for the better.

BARNES, Rev. W. E. [C.-E.] Canonical and Uncanonical Gospels 3/6 c 8° Longman 93

Attempts to show that the Canon. Gospels were beyond all doubt received as the Four Authoritative Gospels at least 120 yrs. before CONSTANTINE estab. Xtianity. as a State religion, and that the main features of the story of Christ's life can be traced back continuously to within 30 yrs. of his death. Contg. a tr. of Gospel of St. Peter and a sel. of sayings of Xt. not found in Gospels.

BIRKS, Can. T. R. [C.-E.] Horæ Evangelicæ: the Internal evid. of the Gosp. hist., ed. Rev. H. A. Birks 8° 10/6 Bell / $4 Macmillan, N.Y. 92

An inquiry into the structure and origin of the 4 gospels and the characteristic design of each narrative. By a scholar, but of the old school of scholarship, which is hardly relevant to the present state of the problems.

CARPENTER, Prf. J. Estlin [Unit.] The First Three Gospels: their origin and rel. [Biblical Manuals] 3/6 f 8° Sund. Schl. Ass. [90] 90
CHASE, Dr. F. H. [C.-E.] The Lord's Prayer in the Early Church [Texts and Studies, ut A § 55] 8° 5/- Camb. Press / $1.75 nt. Macmillan, N.Y. 91

Allows that in the period wh. intervened betw. Christ's first teaching of the Prayer and the Evangelist's giving it a place in the gospels, it had passed thro' one stage and had already entered upon the second stage of its history.

CONE, Dr. Orello [Am.] Gospel Criticism and Historical Christianity $1.75 (7/6) c 8° Putnam 91

A thoroughly independent and excellent pop. summary of the results of mod. crit. of the Gospels and of history of Gospel canon dur. 2nd cent.

" " The Gospel and its Earliest Interpretations $1.75 (7/6) c 8° Putnam 93

A study of the teaching of Christ, and its doctrinal transformations in the N.T.

JOLLEY, Alf. J. The Synoptic Problem for English Readers 3/- nt. (1.25) c 8° Macmillan 93

A clearly written, temperate little inquiry into the literary orig., character and structure of the first three Gospels. Based on WEISS' theory of the Gospels, wh. has not so far made many converts [v. Prf. V. H. STANTON in Expositor, Mch. '93].

TAYLOR, Dr. Chas. [C.-E.] The Witness of Hermas to the Four Gospels s 4° 7/6 nt. Camb. Press / Macmillan, N.Y. 92

An excell. study of the style of the Pastor, attempting to show that, tho' there are "no indubitable traces" of the Gospels in HERMAS, he was acquainted w. them, and "systematically disguised his allusions" to them. This bk. claims to have detected the hidden allusions.

WENDT, Prf. H. H. —in his The Teaching of Jesus, ut A § 123.
WRIGHT, Rev. Arth. The Composition of the Four Gospels: a critical inquiry 5/- ($1.75) c 8° Macmillan 90

Fourth Gospel (John).

ABBOT, Dr. Ezra [Am. Unit.; layman] etc. The Fourth Gospel—ut A § 24.
GLOAG, Dr. Paton [C.-S.] Introduction to the Johannine Writings 8° 10/6 Nisbet / $3 Scribner, N.Y. 91

Apologetic, always defending the Conservative side; but tolerant and fair. Contains little that is new, but retells old things in the light of recent literature, wh. has been widely consulted.

PEYTON, Rev. Wm. W. [F.-Ch.] The Memorabilia of Jesus, ut A § 37.
WATKINS, Archd. H. W. Modern Criticism consid. in its rel. to the Fourth Gosp. [Bampton Lect. '90] 8° 15/- Murray / $5 Dutton, N.Y. 90

Strictly limited in its scope to external evidence, whether favourable or adverse.

Pauline Epistles.

EVERETT, Prf. Chas. C. [Am.] The Gospel of Paul c 8° $1.50 Houghton, Boston / 6/- nt. Gay & Bird 93
KNOWLING, Rev. R. J. The Witness of the Epistles: a study in modern criticism 15/- ($5) 8° Longman 92

A good and mainly impartial summary of crit. opinions, gathered fr. writers of every school (esp. Germ. and Fch.), upon PAUL'S knowl. of the facts of Christ's life and teaching, as they were afterw. put on record, wh., if correct, wd. be an earlier testimony than the Gospels themselves.

Pastoral Epistles (Timothy, Titus, Philemon).

SABATIER, Prf. A. [Prot.] —in his Apostle Paul [ut A § 51] affirms Pauline authorship of Past. Epp.

132. CHRISTIAN EVIDENCES (d): MIRACLES AND PRAYER.

Miracles —for Exeget. etc. Treatises v. A § 33.

ABBOT, Dr. Edwin A. Philomythus: an antidote against Christianity 3/6 ($1.25) c 8° Macmillan [91] 91

A hostile discussion of Card. J. H. NEWMAN'S Essay on Eccles. Miracles [ut 16.16. A § 132], intended to suggest an antidote agst. "dishonest and conveniently credulous Assent springing fr. a misplaced application of Faith to historical facts." The second edn. conts. a new Preface, entitled Newmanianism [sold separ. 1/- nt.], being a reply to the Editor of the Spectator (Mr. R. H. HUTTON), to Mr. Wilfrid WARD [R.-C.] and remarks on HUTTON'S Card. Newman [ut A § 98].

Agnostic's (An) View of the Resurrection of Jesus c 8° Truth-seeker Co., N.Y. 93

His "view" is that the disappearance of the body of Xt., which gave rise to the belief in His resurrection, was intentionally caused by PILATE to avoid a disturbance. More ingenious than convincing.

A § 134

HUXLEY, P. Thos. H. [Agnos.] Possibilities and Impossibilities — 3*d.* c 8° Watts & Co. 92

A criticism of Biblical miracles.

MÜLLER, Prf. F. Max —Preface to his Anthropological Religion, ut A § 4.

Prayer.

FAUNCE, Dr. D. W. [Am.] Prayer as a Theory and Fact — $1 c 8° Amer. Tract Soc. N. Y. 90

Received the Dartmouth premium for 1889; and presents the rationale for prayer, w. suggestive remarks.

HOULT, Powis — Dialogues on the Efficacy of Prayer — [eight dialogues] 3/6 c 8° Chapman 92
LATHAM, H. J. [Am.] — God in Business; ports. — 3/- c 8° Nisbet 89

Letters and statements from various business persons touching answers received from prayer.

Resurrection of Christ—v. A § 123: Christology.

134. CHRISTIAN EVIDENCES (f): CHRISTIANITY COMPARED WITH OTHER RELIGIONS.

The several non-Christian religions in their systematic treatment are dealt with in A §§ 9–15 and B passim.

Generally.

DOANE, T. W. [Am. Unit.] Bible Myths and their Parallels in other Religions; ill. — $2.50 8° Truthseeker Co., N. Y. [82] 90

A comparison of O. and N. Test. myths w. those of heathen nations of antiquity; w. consid. of their origin and meaning. A sort of summary of heterodox opinions, contg. a great deal of out-of-the-way information fr. many sources. Good index.

ELLINWOOD, Dr. Fk. F. [Am.] The Oriental Religions and Christianity — 9/- 12° $1.75 Scribner / 5/- Nisbet — 92

Ely Lects. 1891. Each presents a distinct topic or particular phase of the present conflict of Xtn. w. the non-Xtn. religions of India, China, Turkey, and Persia—from standpoint of a missionary platform.

FARRER, Jas. A. — Paganism and Christianity — 6/- c 8° Black 91

Seeks to show that the Xtn. Church of the 1st four cents. had nothing to teach that was at once new and true, and that it did great mischief by largely contributing to the dissolution of the Rom. Empire. His selns. from Pagan moralists of the 1st two cents., breathing the loftiest humanity, contrasted w. passages fr. the Fathers breathing the very opposite spirit, are interesting, but certainly do not suffice to prove the author's main contention that Xtianity. did not better the world in either morals or religion.

KEARY, C. F. — The Influence of Paganism on Christianity—in Religious Systems of the World, ut A § 9.
LEWIS, Dr. Abram H. [Am. 7th-Day-Bapt.] Paganism surviving in Christianity — $1.75 (7/6) 8° Putnam 92

Regards Xty. as in some respects a crystallization of various pagan beliefs and ceremonies, and traces their influ. on the Bible, the Church, its practices, etc.

MATHESON, Rev. Geo. [C.-S.] The Distinctive Messages of the Old Religions — 5/- c 8° Blackwood 93

Thoughtful and clear lects., "emphasizing the dividing lines wh. constitute the boundary betw. each religion and all beside."

MOLLOY, J. Fitzgerald — The Faiths of the Peoples, 2 vols. — 21/- c 8° Ward & Downey 92

Judaism, Cathol. Ch. in Engl., Islam, Cath. Apost. Ch., Mod. Jews, Gk. Ch., Methodists, Congreg., Ch. of Humanity, Baptists, Ritualists, New Jerus. Ch., Unitarians, Monasticism, Friends, Salvation Army, Xtn. Reunion Scheme, Moravians, Seventh-Day Baptists, etc. Of no special interest or value, but provides useful facts in an impartial spirit.

*Religious Systems of the World—ut A § 19.
SCOTT, Chas. Newton — The Foregleams of Christianity — 6/- c 8° Smith & Elder 93

An essay on the relig. hist. of antiquity, full of information and w. good remarks on the relation of the old religions to Christianity. Very much in the spirit of Rev. F. D. MAURICE'S Religions of the World [ut B.B. A § 134].

WOOD, Rev. Chas. Jas. [Am. Episc.] Survivals in Christianity: studies in theol. of Divine Immanence 6/- ($1.50) c 8° Macmil. 93

Illustrates the mixture of ethnic relig. notions w. Xty. in the early cents., giving some of the causes of the incomplete reception of Xty. among the Apostles, post-apost. Xtns., ante-Nicene and mediæv. theologians, accounting for a survival in Xty. of some incongruous and alien elements wh. "contradict the very essence of the revelation of Jesus and enfeeble it as an instrument for the salvation of the world."

Relation of Folklore to Ethnology.

GOMME, G. Laur. — Ethnology in Folklore [Modern Science Series] c 8° 2/6 Paul / $1 Appleton, N.Y. 92
A statement of the author's views as to the functions of folklore as a means of ethnological research, and as to the principles to be applied in the scientific analysis of custom and belief: the first attempt of its kind. Its main idea is that a non-Aryan race preceded the Aryan wave, had its own cults and customs, was conquered but not exterminated by the Aryans, and continued to a late period intermixed w. its conquerors: fr. wh. race the author traces folk-customs.

The Latin Text, with a valuable histor. Introd. (116 pp.), analysis and notes (230 pp.), and English tr. w. Indexes. The exempla were very early collected fr. the Bp's. sermons, and intended for the use of other preachers. Being examples of what the pious Xtn. is not to break the 1st commandmt. by believing in, they cont. much folklore and are of spec. value fr. the standpt. of compar. storiology. There is much unused similar material in other mediæv. sermons and service-bks. (wh. wants editing).

Druidism.

MORGAN, Owen ["Morien"] The Light of Britannia; port. and ill. 10/6 nt. 8° Owen, Cardiff 93
Based on entirely antiquated authorities [e.g. DUPUIS, Godfrey HIGGINS, KNIGHT, FABER, BRYANT, CALMET'S Bible Dict. and BELL'S Pantheon]. Written in Engl. by an enthusiastic Welshman (abounding in gramm. and typog. errors), it is intended to unveil the mysteries of anc. Brit. Druidism, on the framework of wh. "the Xtn. religion is scientifically arranged," and to wh. the author attribs. the invention of the solar myth (later borrowed by the Egyptns. and Gks.!): for him St. PAUL wrote an Epistle to the Druids of Galatia; and he even inquires, "Was the Lord Jesus Christ a Druid?" Amusing, nevertheless.

This moribund race, the hairy aborigines of Japan, wh. at one time peopled the greater pt., if not the whole, of the Jap. Archipel. and islands as far N. as Kamchatka, whose speech shows no clear relationship to any other known lang., now survives only among a few scattered communities in Yezo, the S. districts of Sakhalin, and the S. members of the Kurile group, numbering in all some 20,000 souls, the majority (c. 17,000) bg. in Yezo. They are, however, of great interest on acc. of their phys. features, their social usages, and their religion. BATCHELOR, pace Miss BIRD and others, strongly insists on claiming for them that they "are exceedingly religious." An orig. and stimulating little bk., full of freshness and vigour, giving a thoroughly critical presentation of the teaching of some of the earliest speculative cosmologists fr. Thales to Leukippos and Diogenes of Apollonia. Accepts the 2 main propositions estab. by Zeller [ut 16.16. C § 3], that (1) Gk. philos. learnt nothing fr. the Oriental systems, (2) down to time of Sophists it was completely materialistic and was entirely severed fr. theology. Jowett, Prf. Benj. [tr.] The Dialogues of Plato : tr., w. analyses and introductions, 5 vols. m 8° 84/- Clar. Press / $2 nt. Macmillan, N.Y. [71] 92

The third (and finally, tho' slightly, revised) edn. of this great wk. by the late Master of Balliol, "the English Socrates," the second having been pub. in 1889 [ut 𝔅.𝔅. C § 8]. The standard Engl. tr., an exceedingly faithful version of PLATO'S style and thought, tho' of next to no value as a "crib," and "above" the scientific side of philological scholarship. The Analyses are, generally speaking, a compendium of the tr., often almost identical in lang., displaying briefly, and with admirable discrimination and lucidity, the "argument" in both senses of the dialogues. The Introductions are a series of expanded elucidations of points raised by the Dialogues, at times little more than long notes, at times excursuses on larger points or portions of the Platonic matter (e.g. those on the Science of Lang., Psychol., Communism, Utilitarianism, the Platonic Ideas, the Philos. Systs. of Kant and Hegel, the Legend of Atlantis, Myths, etc.).

A valuable edn., cont. a mass of parallel passages fr. contemp. writers, and discussions on obscure or antiquarian points. Spelling modernized [Mark Pattison pleads that "to modernize the spelling of a classic is nothing less than to deface one of the monuments of the language," and this is spec. true of Bacon]; and, though intended for the common reader, chiefly valuable for the historical student, as the use made of contemp. trs., Lat., Fch. and Ital., for the elucid. of the text is systematic and thorough, and the dissertations upon Baconian theories of polit. econ., usury, commerce, plantations, pts. of law and judicial procedure, politics and history of the day, highly valuable. Aldis WRIGHT'S edn. [nt B.B. C § 16 (now red. to 2/6 nt.)] is still the best for the general reader.

Works.

True Intellectual System of the Universe: [1678]; ed. Harrison, 3 vols. [w. 7/6] 8° Tegg 45

An encyclopædic wk., in the form of a refutation of the then popular materialistic writers, HOBBES, DESCARTES and other fatalists; yet itself too catholic in spirit to escape the charge fr. nearly all contemp. theologians of being atheistic and heretical. Two other wks. completing the whole design were completed only in outline and left in MS., 2 of wh. have been pub.: Immutable Morality, 1731, and Treatise on Free will, ed. Allen, 1838. Several of his MSS. are in Brit. Mus.

There is no modern edn. in print, by far the best being that of 1845 [ut sup.]: it conts. also the Immutable Morality [=Science of Knowledge]. The True Intellectual Syst. was orig. pub. (posthum.) in f° London 1678; later 2 vols. 4° ib. 1743 (the best earlier edn.); ed. BIRCH, 4 vols. 8° ib. 1820; and ed. Bernard, Dr. J. H. [tr.] Kant's Kritik [sic] of Judgment : tr., w. intro. and notes 10/- nt. ($3.50) 8° Macmillan 92

The first complete tr. wh. has appeared in England of the third of the great Kritiken : a wk. wh., by reason of its abundant illustrations and somewhat discursive method, is one of the most "readable" of Kant's writings. Briefly summed up, it may be said to consist of the application of the methods of the Critical Philosophy to the Judgment, æsthetic and teleological, and the a priori principles of taste. Conts. a glossary of Kant's philos. terms.

Politics and Perpetual Peace :

Vol. i. is an Explanation and Defence of the Critique of Pure Reason; vol. ii. is tr. of the Prolegomena [ut supra]. Conciseness is the "note" of vol. i., wh., however, has, in this sec. ed., lost its most characteristic feature, viz. its vigorous attack on the Association-psychology of MILL and BAIN (1st ed. cap. iv.). Vol. ii. contg. the tr. of Proleg. (so indispensable for KANT'S central doctrine), is invaluable.

McCarthy, Justin H. [tr.] Montaigne's Essays: tr., 4 vols.; 2 etchgs. [Stott Lib.] 32° $\frac{\text{ea. 3/- Stott}}{\text{4v. $3. Macmillan, } \textit{N.Y.}}$ 90

A good tr.; but FLORIO'S gives by far the best idea of MONTAIGNE'S style, and is spec. interesting to Englishmen, as Shakespeare "boiled down" much of it for his own purpose. The best working French edn. is that of MOTHEAU+JOUAUST, in 4 vols. 8vo, w. excellent notes and a glossary, and beautifully printed on good paper: it is based on the edn. of 1588, of wh. STE. BEUVE said "elle produit mieux une impression d'ensemble."

Ueber d. vierfacher Wurzel d. Satzes vom zureichenden Grunde [1813] and Ueb. d. Willen in d. Natur [1836]:

Anon. [tr.] The Fourfold Root of the Principle of Sufficient Reason, and on the Will in Nature: tr. [Bohn's Lib.] c 8° $\frac{5/- \text{ Bell}}{$1.50 \text{ Macmillan, } \textit{N.Y.}}$ 89

The Fourfold Root was SCHOPENHAUER'S earliest pubn., written in his 26th yr., for his doctor's examination—a dissert. wh., as he himself says, "became the substructure for the whole of my system." By the Principle of Sufficient Reason is meant that "nothing is without a reason for its being," and its fourfold root is based in Logical, Physical, Mathematical and Moral necessity. The other essay consists of "corroborations of the author's philos." received from the empirical sciences.

*System of Philosophy :

Principles of Ethics, 2 vols. [vol. i. 15/-; vol. ii. 12/6] 8° 27/6 Williams / Appleton, N.Y. 92; 93

In 6 Parts. Part 1. Data of Ethics (separ. 8/-['79]'92); Pt. 2. Inductions of Ethics '92; Pt. 3. Ethics of Individual Life '92 [These 3 pts. form vol. i.]; Part 4. Ethics of Social Life—Justice (separ. 8/- ($1.25)['91]'92); Part 5. Ditto—Negative Beneficence [5/-]'93; Pt. 6. Ditto—Positive Beneficence [5/-]'93.

A highly important work, the coping-stone of SPENCER'S philosophy. The subject of Part 4, Justice, has already been dealt with before in his early work, Social Statics [ut 16. 16. C § 62, new edn. 1892, 10/- ($2)], but in that wk. a biological origin for ethics was only indicated, whereas it is here definitely set forth and the elaboration of its consequences has become the cardinal trait of the system. Upon the subjects of the last 2 pts., however, Mr. SPENCER admits that the doctr. of Evolution has not furnished the guidance and support he had looked for. Vide also note to SPENCER in C § 70.

Principles of Sociology, vol. ii. 8° 18/- Williams / Appleton, N.Y. 90

Completes the work, wh. was pub. in 4 pts. from 1879 to 1890.

*HÖFFDING, Prf. Harald Outlines of Psychology, tr. Mary E. Lowndes 6/- ($1.50) c 8° Macmillan 91

Useful and comprehensive. Method purely scientific and non-metaphysical, treating psychol. as a science of experience as little bound to begin w. an explan. of mind as physics is w. an explan. of matter. The tr. is made fr. the Danish vid the German tr. Closely printed in small type.

*JAMES, Prf. Wm. [Am.] The Principles of Psychology, 2 vols. $6 Holt, N.Y. / 25/- nt. Macmillan 90

A bk. for the advanced student and teacher. Probably the most thorough and original treatise on psychol. written in Engl. since SPENCER'S Princ. of Psychol. [(55) 81, ut ℣.℣. C § 62]. Regards psychol. as a branch of positive general knowledge, accepting the broad distinctions of pract. experience. Its style is brilliant and sparkling, occas. even mirthful (as might be expected fr. a brother of Hy. JAMES, jun., the novelist) as well as profound. Its chief drawback is its piecemeal treatmt., due to 10, out of the 28, chaps. having appeared previously (in whole or in pt.) in periodicals, and having been little, if at all, worked up. Very long quotations are incl. In spite of the length of the bk. (c. 1,400 pp.) Pleasure and Pain, and Moral and Æsth. feelings and judgmt. are not treated.

SULLY, Prf. Jas. The Human Mind: a text-book of psychology, 2 vols. 8° 21/- Longman / $5 Appleton, N.Y. 92

An expansion and further elaboration of the doctr. set forth in his Outl. of Psychol. [ut ℣.℣. C § 71], much more space being given to the new developmts. of physiolog. and experim. psychol., to illns. of psychol. principles in the phenomena of racial and animal life, of insanity and hypnotism. The former bk. was elementary, and written w. spec. ref. to the theory of educ.; this is intended more espec. for students who already have some knowl. of psychol.

LADD, Prf. Geo. T. [Am.] Outlines of Physiological Psychology 8° $2 Scribner, N.Y. / 12/- Longman, 91

An abridgmt. of his Elements of Physiol. Psychol. [ut ℣.℣. C § 71], intended as a college text-bk., and omitting details unsuitable for the less advanced student.

*ZIEHEN, Prf. Theod. Introduction to Physiological Psychology, tr. C. C. Van Liew+Dr. Otto Beyer; 21 ill. [Intro. Science Textbks.] c 8° 6/- Sonnenschein / $1.50 Macmillan, N.Y. 92

A masterly expos. of the scope and methods over the whole field of physiolog. psychol., on the lines of the English psychology of association as agst. the doctrines of WUNDT, now dominant in Germany. WUNDT'S auxiliary function of Apperception, whereby so many difficulties were "avoided," is thrown over, and its superfluity demonstrated. The basis of the work is strictly psycho-physical, its scheme being (1) Speculative Psychology, (2) Empirical Psychology, (a) Trancendental Psychol.: psychic processes not contingent on cerebral function, (b) Physiological Psychol.: psychic processes contingent on cerebral function (integral part: metric physiolog. psychol.=psycho-physics).

Genius.

LOMBROSO, Prf. Cesare The Man of Genius [tr.]; ill. [Contemp. Science Ser.] c 8° 3/6 Walter Scott / $1.25 Scribner, N. Y. 91

Regards genius, and even talent, as a disease, every mind diverging fr. the common order being apparently ipso facto insane. Capably written, but his theory is overdone.

NISBET, J. F. The Insanity of Genius and the General Inequality of Human Faculty physiol. considered 6/– c 8° Ward & Downey [89] 93

The author's standpt. is that genius, like "insanity, idiocy, scrofula, rickets, gout, consumption," etc., is a morbid form, differing fr. insanity not in kind nor even in degree, but rather in respect of the cerebral areas unduly excited. The bk. is very "readable," being full of examples of neuropathic incidents taken fr. the lives of remarkable men and deviations fr. the norm. in the bodily or mental hist. of their ancestors. This inductive survey occupies ab. two-thirds of the wk., the remaining third contg. a descr. of the physical basis of mind, a crit. of phrenology and an exam. of heredity in rel. to genius.

History of Æsthetics.

*BOSANQUET, Dr. Bern. A History of Æsthetic [Library of Philosophy] 8° 10/6 Sonnenschein / $2.75 Macmillan, N. Y. 92

A very important and learned wk., dealing critically w. theories of beauty from SOCRATES to Wm. MORRIS and the progressive developmt. of the working idea of beauty in the hist. of Fine Art, showing how great changes in the conditions of life have affected this developmt. It is masterly in systematization and highly suggestive, but difficult reading owing to its philosophic terminology, wh. has been rendered necessary by the acuteness of the author's refinements and the closeness of his reasoning. Pp. xxiii. 502, w. index.

Æsthetic Culture.

CHILD, Theod. [Am.] The Desire of Beauty [posthumously pub.] c 8° 75c. Harper, N.Y. / 5/- Osgood 92

BELLAMY, Edw. [Am.] Looking Backward, 2000-1887 : a romance c 8° 50c. Houghton, Boston / 1/- W. Reeves [88] 92

A socialistic prophetic sketch, picturing an ideal commonwealth in the yr. 2000. Excited a great deal of popular interest on its appearance, 350,000 copies having, it is stated, been sold in America dur. its first 2 years, and a Bellamy club having been formed at Boston to propagate its "principles." It may even be said to have given rise to the "Nationalist Movement" there.

HERTZKA, Dr. Theodor Freeland : a social anticipation, tr. Arthur Ransom c 8° 6/- Chatto / $1 Appleton, N.Y. 91

By a well-known Viennese polit. economist, "a high priest of the 'Manchester School.'" The bk., which at once reached a considerable circulation abroad, has resulted in several societies being formed in differ. pts. of Germ. and Austria for the formation of a colony, in wh. the author's views may be practically tested.

L'ESTRANGE, Miles What we are Coming to 2/6 c 8° Douglas, Edin. 92

A forcast of Engl. tempora and mores a generation hence, intended to serve as a warning agst. many of the progressive tendencies of the day. Of the Looking Backward type, but of opposite intention.

Gonner, Prf. E. C. K. Political Economy [elementary] 2/- c 8° Sutton 90

Gunton, Geo. [Am.] Principles of Social Economics $1.75 (7/6) c 8° Putnam 91

Inductively considered and practically applied, with criticisms of current theories. 1. Princ. of Soc. Progress, 2. Econ. Production, 3. Econ. Distrib., 4. Pract. Statesmanship. Defines social progress as lying in an ever-increasing consumption of wealth by the masses, no great industrial enterprizes being likely to be very successful unless catering for the multitude. Progress in politics and society is marked by the "tendency to increase the sovereignty of the individual and diminish the arbitrary authority of the State by establishing greater democracy of administration." In economics it is the "tendency to centralise industrial administration and responsibility, de-individualise the labourer as a producer, and socialise the results in better and cheaper products."

*MARSHALL, Prf. Alf. — Principles of Economics, vol. i. — [in 2 vols.] 12/6 nt. ($3) 8° Macmillan [90] 91

Of capital importance. Regarding econ. laws and reasonings as merely pt. of the material wh. conscience and "common-sense" have to turn to account in solving practical problems, it reconstructs the whole body of doctrines on broader grounds, giving special prominence not only to the ethical quality of motives, but also to sagacity, energy and enterprize. Displays a rare power of lucid exposition and a profound grasp of econ. theory, alike in its histor. devel. and its pract. applications. The most important book on economics since MILL'S Principles [1848; ut B.B. D § 114].

NICHOLSON, Prf. J. Shield — On the Principles of Political Economy, vol. i. — 8° 15/- Black, $3 nt. Macmillan, N.Y. 93

Designed to cover the same ground as MILL [nt B.B. D § 114]. An independent and sober attempt to recast the subject in a systematic way in the light of the older doctrines and their later modifications. Largely made up of lecture notes, of which it bears traces.

PATTEN, Prf. Simon D. [Am.] — The Theory of Dynamic Economics — $1. 12° Univ. of Penn., Phila. 93

Presents the classical theory in a new form. Nos. 10–11 of Political Economy and Public Law Series, pub. by Univ. of Pennsylvania.

PERRY, Prf. Arth. L. [Am.] — The Principles of Political Economy — [v. B.B. D § 115 note] p 8° $2 Scribner, N.Y. 9/- Paul 91

Discards the term "Wealth," and makes "Value" the subject of the science. Free Trade. Illustrations chiefly fr. Amer. life, history and law—and the Bible.

RICARDO, Dav. [1772–1823] — Principles of Polit. Econ. and Taxation [1846], tr. Prf. E. C. K. Gonner — c 8° 5/- Bohn's Lib., $1.50 Macmillan, N.Y. 91

After passing through the periods of undiscriminating praise and reaction, this wk. of RICARDO (a retired banker) is now in that of reconsideration (witness Prf. A. MARSHALL in his Princ. of Economics, ut sup., where pains are taken to show how he has been grievously misunderstood). An excellent edn., provided with expos. and crit. Intro., notes and bibliogr. Though dry and ill put together, the bk. has exercised a powerful influence, chiefly owing to its theory of rent and doctrine of "comparative cost" (wh. is at the basis of internat. trade).

SHIRRES, L. P. — Analysis of the Ideas of Economics — 6/- c 8° Longman 92

An attempt to clear away certain fogs from the ideas of "the dismal science," chiefly in matters of terminology and definition, w. good chaps. on Value, Money Market, Credit and Capital.

*v. BÖHM-BAWERK, Prf. E. V. — Capital and Interest: crit. hist. of econ. theory, tr. Wm. Smart — 12/- nt. ($4) 8° Macmillan 90

Austrian school of economy. Forms the Intro. to his Positive Theory of Capital. It is a complete register of all the ideas wh. have been promulgated by previous writers on the subject, and conts. a new theory of his own by the learned author. A profound and original work, dealing not only with Capital and Interest, but w. other econ. subjects.

* ,, ,, — The Positive Theory of Capital, tr. Wm. Smart — 12/- nt. ($4) 8° Macmillan 91

Its princ. contrib. to econ. science is its refutation of the pet Socialistic dogma which reduces the function of capital to the "exploitation of labour" by means of an oppressive tax (=interest) on the fruits of industry, and its philosophic analysis of bargains rel. to future goods. Both excellently tr. by Wm. SMART, who acts as a sort of junior counsel, not infrequently improving upon his instructions.

v. WIESER, Prf. Fried. — Natural Value, tr. [Mrs.] Christian A Mallock, ed. Wm. Smart — 10/- nt. ($3.25) 8° Macmillan 93

The latest developmt. of JEVONS' marginal utility theory of value, seeking to show that the laws of value in the modern industrial state are, fundamentally, natural laws, wh. would reappear in a perfect or a communistic state, and conseq. that rent and interest are not phenomena induced by an artificial state of society, but essentially economic.

,, ,, — The Theory of Value [Am. tr.] — 25*c.* 8° Amer. Acad. of Pol. and Soc. Sci., Phila. 92

A reply (contg. little that is new) to some criticisms made by Prf. MACVANE [Am.], of Harvard, on the Austrian Economists, of whom Prf. WIESER is one, the spec. quest. in discussion bg. the rel. betw. marginal utility and cost of production.

Income and Taxn.*; ii. (posth. pub.): Law of Value and Theory of Unearned Increment, The Shattered Science, Value, Natural Monopolies, The Unearned Increment. The views expressed throughout are those of a Free Trader in the broadest sense of that term, who considered the policy of Free Trade to be something more than a policy of tariff reform. The bk. was a distinct bid for the solution of the social problem—as opposed to the socialistic solution of that problem, and has a distinct value as giving a fuller and more compreh. view of the opinions of the Manchester School than has ever before been put forth. Like Cobden, Sir L. M. lays spec. stress on foreign competition.

*BASTABLE, Prf. C. F. Public Finance 12/6 nt. ($4) 8° Macmillan 92

The most important wk. on the whole subj. since MCCULLOCH [(1845) '63, ut ℣.℣. D § 117]. Defines Public Finance (w. the Germans) as the "supply and application of State Resources" (State incl. all bodies that have power to levy contribs. for public purposes) not (w. the Engl. and MCCULLOCH) as rel. to money matters in general. Favours taxation of ground rents (p. 362); sums up agst. a progressive income-tax (pp. 284–294), agst. infringement of the Sinking Fund (pp. 618, 622), agst. increase of Death-duties (p. 525); leans to bimetallism.

Taxation and Rating.

Shifting and Incidence of Taxation.

SELIGMAN, Prf. E. R. A. [Am.] Shifting and Incidence of Taxation 8° $1 Amer. Econ. Ass., Baltim., 2/6 Sonnenschein 92

A comprehensive review of this difficult question. By "shifting" a tax is meant the act of the person upon whom it is in the first instance levied, by which he recoups himself at the expense of another in the course of their business transactions. By "incidence" is meant the striking of the tax upon the person who, unable to shift it upon anyone else, finds himself obliged to pay it himself.

MUNRO, Prf. The Local Taxation of Chief Rents

Of chief interest as opposing MILL'S doctr. of applying the theory of agric. rent to the rent of buildg. land; supports the conclusions of GOSCHEN'S draft rept. of 1870.

Report from the Select Committee on Town Holdings

The evidence of Sidney WEBB, who makes out a strong case for the occupier, is valuable, though it is probably exaggerated.

SARGANT, Chas. Hy. Urban Rating 6/- 8° Longman 90

An inquiry into the incidence of local taxation in towns, w. refer. to proposals for change, attempting to show that under the present system the incidence of rates is mainly on the owner and not on the occupier. Very numerous other pamphlets and booklets have appeared on both sides of the question: this is perhaps the best.

Early Writers.

S., W. Discourse of the Common Weal of this Realm [1581], ed. Elizab. Lamond c 8° 5/– Camb. Press / Macmillan, N.Y. 93
Ed. with minute accuracy fr. the earliest known MS., that of Wm. LAMBARDE, the Kentish antiquary [written A.D. 1565]. In three "Dialogues" betw. a knight, a "merchaunte," a doctor, a husbandman and a "capper" (maker of woollen caps). Full of quaint economic notions, and of considerable historical interest. EDR. attrib. authorship to Sir Thos. SMYTHE or Jno. HALES (rns. of HY. viii. or EDW. vi.), favouring the latter. In 1751 edn. the publisher ascribed it to W(ILLIAM) S(HAKESPEARE)! It has been previously printed (but not fr. this MS.) sub tit. "Examination of Complaints" in 1751 in the Harleian Miscellany [10 v. 1808–13], The Pamphleteer [29 v. 1813–28] and in the New Shaksp. Of great value for tracing the history of English rural economy back to its original sources, presenting a clear and actual view of the method of wkg. a manorial estate and keeping manorial accs. in 13 cent. Treatise on the office of seneschal is really a bk. of instructions as to state managemt. These 4 treats. formed the chief written guidance to husbandry dur. 13 to 16 cent. Dr. Cunningham's intro. on the econ. of an estate in the 13th cent. is a useful sketch.

Economical Works.

ARGYLL, Dke. of The Unseen Foundations of Society 18/– 8° Murray [93] 93

An interesting, but somewhat diffuse and ill-ordered bk., championing the landlords. Claims to be "an examination of the Fallacies and Failures of Econ. Science due to Neglected Elements," analyzing wealth as (1) the possession [one of the "neglected elements"] (2) in comparative abundance (3) of things (4) which are objects of desire (5) not obtainable without sacrifice or exertion (6) and wh. are accessible to men able as well as anxious to acquire them. Incl. acc. of the feudal system and the substitution of rent for pers. services, criticizes the Ricardian theory of rent and that of the Wages Fund, and discourses on the working of econ. laws in our day.

A bad tr. of a compact little treatise [Das Arbeitsverhältniss gemäss d. heutigen Recht (6*m.* 8° Duncker, Leipz. '71)], wh. conts. all the main positions of the author of the famous Die Arbeitergilden der Gegenwart, 2 vols. (12*m.* 8° Duncker, Leipz. '71; '72), whose strength lies in his sturdy commonsense rather than his up-to-date histor. knowledge. Regards Trades Unions as an inevitable outcome of modern industrial condns., furnishing, as they do, a hope that the position of the masses may be improved without a violent reconstruction of society. The Arbeitergilden was written when the author was 25 yrs. old, and at once placed him in the front rank of political economists of the day. Its spec. originality consisted in its applic. to Trades Unions of the historic method wh. has yielded such valuable results on various economic questions and its consequent tracing of their pedigree in the Teutonic world far back into the Mid. Ages, showing the analogy of the social movemts. of to-day w. those of former days.

Forecast.

PEARSON, Dr. Chas. H. National Life and Character: a forecast 10/- nt. ($4) 8° Macmillan 93

A very striking yet very depressing bk. by an Oxford man; some time Minister of Educ. in Victoria, yet no believer in Progress as ordin. understood. Seeks to shew that the social and intell. forces at wk. amg. the higher races of mankind are tending and will increasingly tend tow. a state of equilibrium (rather than an ever-expanding and ever-brightening ideal), owing to the adoption of State Socialism, wh. ultimately will prevail everywhere, favoured by the general extension of milit. service and the growth of large towns; and that, tho' the new society will gain by an increased patriotism, family-life will be to a large extent broken up and individual character lose in self-reliance more than it gains in sobriety.

Bernstein, Edw. Ferdinand Lassalle as a Social Reformer [tr.] [Social Science Ser.] c 8° 2/6 Sonnenschein / $1 Scribner, N. Y. 93

Serves as a useful complement to Dawson's book, ut infra. Author is a thorough-going Social Democrat and a "philosophic Socialist," who here seeks to shew that Lassalle did not differ fundamentally fr. Marx and his followers. To non-socialists the chief pt. in the bk. is the author's practical abandonmt. of Marx's theory of value, wh. is a deduction fr. Ricardo's (wh., it is now tolerably well established, is wrong).

*SIDGWICK, Prf. Hy. The Elements of Politics 14/- nt. ($4) 8° Macmillan 91

Avowedly constructed on the lines of Bentham and Mill, it expounds, in as systematic a form as the subject-matter (at present) admits of, the chief general considerations that enter into the rational discussion of political questions in modern states (jurisprud., art of legisln., international morality and constit. law or politics in its restricted sense). A most important work, at once luminous, profound and stimulating. SIDGWICK, before all things a moralist, treats politics as a theory not of what is but of what should be.

SHARPLESS, Dr. Is. [Am.] Engl. Education in the Element. and Secondary Schls. [Intern. Educ. Ser.] c 8° $1 Appleton, N.Y. / 4/6 Arnold 92
A descr. of Engl. elem., secondary and pub. schls., by the Pres. of Haverford Coll., Pennsylvania. On the whole highly laudatory, but does not fail to notice the almost total break betw. our elem. schls. and secondary education.

Private-School System.

"ASSISTANT MASTER, An" Private Schools and Private Schoolmasters 1/- c 8° Digby 92
A severe criticism on the private-school system, somewhat overdrawn.

History.

Elementary School-Books.

BRADSHAW, Henry On the A B C as an Authorized Sch.-bk. in 16 cent.—in his Coll. Papers, ut B.B. K § 3.
This was a first bk. for children, contg. not only the alphabet but also the elements of relig. instr. BRADSHAW draws attention to edns.°of it fr. 1538–1568, and shows that something v. like it existed down to 1852 in the Estab. Ch. of Scotl. An interesting contrib. to the hist. of mediæval schl.-bks.

FIELD, Mrs. E. M. —in her The Child and his Book: hist. and progr. of chldn.'s liter. in Engl. 6/- c 8° Wells Gardner [91] 92
Tho' this study is purely literary and fr. the outside, it is full of interest to the student of the hist. of Engl. educ. Commencing w. the earliest times (the Druids !) and passing thro' the Mid. Ages to the Puritan times, when children all became "miserable little sinners," it ends at 1826; since wh. time the author wisely refrains fr. mentioning more than a few names. Her bk. forms excellent memoires pour servir, and is very interesting.
